Desired use- Our dogs are sold primarily as companions.

Dogs sold for prospective show and or breeding homes are free from any visible defects likely to be detrimental to this at the time of sale, however as no one can predict exactly how any given dog will mature both structurally and in temperament the seller cannot guarantee that the dog will mature as suitable for these activities and will not offer any form of refund or replacement should the dog mature to be unsuitable.

Castration and spaying- Due to the documented negative affect of the Vizslas temperament and ability to mature structurally the purchaser must agree not to spay or neuter their dog prior to them obtaining 12 months of age unless deemed necessary by a veterinary surgeon for health reasons excluding potential behavioural modification.

Diet - Your puppy has been reared on a specially formulated raw diet; the purchaser agrees they will continue with this diet for the minimum of four weeks after homing to avoid digestive upset during the settling in period. After this period any changes made should be to a high-quality breed appropriate diet and should be made gradually.

Breed Health - The Hungarian Vizsla is a generally healthy breed however as with any breed of dog there are some health conditions that have been observed to be more common within the breed.

The current requirement from the UK Kennel Club is that Breeding stock should be hip scored, Elbow score, and eye tested prior to breeding. In addition to this requirement, we also voluntarily test our breeding stock for ECLE, Cerebellar Ataxia, HUU and the Longhaired gene and audible heart rhythm abnormalities.

Some of our breeding dogs are also tested for Thyroid copies of certification for tests done on your puppy's parents are supplied in your puppy pack.

Conditions we cannot test for are things such as but not limited to dietary or skin conditions Epilepsy, VIP, MMM, IBD, IMHA, IMT and other autoimmune conditions, we do not breed from dogs that are physically affected with any of these conditions and we keep inbreeding coefficient low to minimise risk, but we can never guarantee that a pairing will not produce an affected offspring.

By purchasing a Vizsla you accept that there is a risk your dog could be affected by a health condition of some type at some point in their life. The breeder will not be responsible for any financial loss or distress incurred by the purchaser due to the ill health of the dog.

You are strongly advised to avail yourselves of appropriate insurance to cover unexpected veterinary costs through accident or illness. We request that if your dog suffers an illness which is deemed to be hereditary by your veterinary surgeon that you inform us to enable us to make more informed breeding decisions.
